

SPIRITUALITY

COMPASS APPROACH

One Child
One Chance

Compass Spirituality Curriculum: Windows, Mirrors, and Doors alongside spiritual competencies

This curriculum is designed to foster spiritual development in children by encouraging them to explore others' perspectives (Windows), reflect on their own thoughts and feelings (Mirrors), and take action in their communities and the wider world (Doors). Reflection opportunities are embedded throughout the curriculum, providing pupils with a chance to express their understanding and emotional responses.

Definition of Spirituality in our schools: 'Spirituality is the spiritual signature of your soul, the soul in others, which is as unique as your fingerprint and the understanding that there is something greater than ourselves'

Working definition for children: 'Spirituality is as unique as your fingerprint. We understand that there is something greater than ourselves'.

In a Compass school with a religious faith, spiritual development enables people to look within themselves, at their human relationships, at the wider world and, for many, at their vision of the divine or the ultimate reality with characteristics such as courage, hope, acceptance, strength and love, so that they can better face the sufferings, challenges and opportunities of human life in all its fullness. To talk about spirituality is, essentially, to talk about something, which is beyond words. This language of spirituality begins from a Christian understanding that everyone is a valued creation, individually and uniquely made by God, like pots made by a potter (Isaiah 64:8). Yet, in life things happen that impact on the physical 'pot' of life and create cracks that provide a glimpse of something 'beyond' the tangible. Christians would view this as an opportunity to relate to the Divine Creator God. Cracks may be caused when something so good and breath taking happens that the pot expands and cracks – the wows of life. Cracks may happen when something challenging happens and threatens the comfort of everyday – the ows of life. Cracks can also happen in the stillness and ordinariness of everyday – the nows of life, when a moment of stillness, a pause or prayer creates a crack in the normal, physical everyday.

In these special moments there is a spiritual opportunity. Kintsugi, the Japanese art of mending broken ceramics with golden joinery or glue, creates something that has been broken into something even more beautiful. Using this metaphor, the wows, ows and nows of life offer the possibility of cracks that are filled with gold and make the pot even more beautiful. The gold in the cracks reflect a little of the wonder of spirituality. x

Beyond religion, a high proportion of young people, particularly, sign up to the idea of being spiritual but not religious, therefore the thinking around spirituality for the non-religious should be taken very seriously.

Explanation of Key Components:

- Windows (Exploring others' perspectives): Activities that allow pupils to view the world through others' experiences, cultures, and beliefs. This promotes empathy, open-mindedness, and respect for diversity.
- Mirrors (Understanding self): Encourages pupils to reflect on their own thoughts, emotions, values, and identities, helping them develop self-awareness and emotional intelligence.
- Doors (Taking action/engagement with the world): Encourages pupils to apply their spiritual learning through acts of kindness, responsibility, and leadership, fostering a sense of connectedness and purpose.

Reflection Opportunities:

Throughout the curriculum, reflection opportunities are integrated to help children express their thoughts, feelings, and understanding at each stage of their spiritual development. These reflections can take the form of:

- Daily/Weekly/Termly Journals: Allowing pupils to write or draw about their emotions, experiences, and what they learned about themselves or others.
- Class Discussions: Teachers can facilitate open discussions where pupils share how they feel about certain topics, values, or actions.
- Group Reflections: Setting aside time for children to reflect in groups, discussing how they felt during an activity or after completing a kindness project.
- Creative Reflections: Encouraging pupils to reflect through art, music, or drama. For instance, drawing a picture of kindness or acting out a scenario of helping others.
- Thoughtful Questions: The questions provided in the table guide reflection, but also allow for personalized reflections. Teachers can prompt children with open-ended questions that explore their emotions, values, and understanding.

Progression across Year Groups:

- Reception to Year 2: Focus on developing awareness of feelings (self-awareness) and beginning to explore others' perspectives (windows). Reflection is simpler and involves recognizing emotions and identifying personal strengths.
- Year 3 to Year 4: Children engage more deeply with the idea of self and others, including exploring values and global issues. Reflection opportunities become more complex, as children begin to examine their role in the world and how they can contribute to positive change.
- Year 5 to Year 6: As pupils mature, they reflect on purpose, identity, and their wider role in society. They take on leadership roles in initiating actions and reflecting on the impact of their actions on the community and the world.

This spirituality curriculum using Windows, Mirrors, and Doors offers a dynamic approach to nurturing spiritual growth in children. By embedding reflection throughout the curriculum, pupils are encouraged to think deeply about themselves, others, and the world, and take action to make a positive impact. As children progress through the stages, they develop greater self-awareness, compassion, a sense of purpose, and interconnectedness with the global community.

Explanation of the Spiritual Competencies:

Be self-aware and learn to empathise with the experience of others as relationships deepen and an understanding of interdependence grows.	So God created humankind in his own image, in the image of God he created them. Genesis 1. 27 John 13. 14 &15 Now that I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also should wash one another's feet. I have set you an example that you should do as I have done for you.	Our children will experience the Bible's teaching that every person is made in the image of God and is loved unconditionally by him. Through a focus on Christian values such as compassion, friendship, dignity, service, justice and community they will be offered opportunities to imagine what it means to walk in the shoes of another, recognising their intrinsic value and acting toward them with the respect that stems from a deep awareness of their dignity as a fellow human beings.
Be guided by their beliefs and values and be willing to take a stand to defend them.	Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place, and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. Ephesians 6.14 & 15 'Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest.' Matthew 11. 28	Our children will learn that whilst full of love and compassion for the marginalised Jesus was also uncompromising and courageous when he needed to be. Through a focus on Christian values such as courage, respect, perseverance and justice pupils will be given opportunities to reflect on their own developing beliefs and opinions. They will be able to hone their skills of advocacy, taking inspiration from other individuals past and present who, by standing up for their principles, have transformed society.
Love themselves, care for themselves, believe in their potential to achieve and find inner strength and resilience when facing challenges.	'Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the Lord your God will be with you wherever you go.' Joshua 1. 9 Matthew 11. 28 'Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest.'	Our children will experience a range of different ways of praying and in so doing will understand that they can ask God for strength and courage in the face of any challenge that they might be experiencing. Through a focus on Christian values such as trust, perseverance, hope and peace they will develop a habit of reflecting on what they can learn through times of struggle as well as success.

Exercise imagination and creativity, appreciate beauty in the world and be alive to experiences of awe and wonder.	When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what is humankind that you are mindful of them, human beings that you care for them? Psalm 8. 3&4 I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made; your works are wonderful, I know that full well. Psalm 139. 14	Our children will learn about the Christian belief in a creator God and that, made in his likeness, each of us shares that creative potential. Through a focus on Christian values such as generosity, joy, thankfulness, courage and hope children’s innate capacity for wonder, imagination and creative exploration of the natural world will be stimulated and developed.
Be intrigued by mystery and be open to an awareness of the transcendent in the whole of life.	Just as you cannot understand the path of the wind or the mystery of a tiny baby growing in its mother’s womb, so you cannot understand the activity of God, who does all things. Ecclesiastes 11. 5 My thoughts are nothing like your thoughts,” says the Lord. “And my ways are far beyond anything you could imagine.” Isaiah 55. 8 Jesus took Peter, John and James up on a mountain to pray. And as he was praying, the appearance of his face was transformed, and his clothes became dazzling white. Luke 9. 28, 29	Our children, who begin school with a natural wisdom and wonder about creation will be offered opportunities to see God at work in all that he has made. They will learn that love cannot be understood in purely rational terms and therefore will recognise the significance of mystery when thinking and speaking of God. Through a focus on Christian values such as joy, respect and dignity they will build a ‘language’ for appreciating the transcendent in the whole of life.

Be comfortable with stillness and silence and be open to engage in reflection/meditation/prayer.	Be still and know that I am God. Psalm 46. 10 2 Timothy 2. 7 Think about what I am saying. The Lord will help you understand all these things.	Our children will be given opportunities to spend time in mindful reflection, meditation and prayer. They will become familiar with stilling strategies to help them cultivate an inner calm and to prepare for prayer. Through focusing on Christian values such as wisdom, hope, joy and peace, they will be invited to reflect on things in their experience that they find puzzling or intriguing as well as some of the big questions of life.
Be ready to say sorry when mistakes are made, to forgive themselves and to forgive others.	The Lord is merciful and compassionate, slow to get angry and filled with unfailing love. Psalm 145. 8 Bear with each other and forgive one another if any of you has a grievance against someone. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. Colossians 3. 13	Our children will learn that nothing is beyond the scope of God’s forgiveness. They will be helped to appreciate how Jesus made forgiveness possible for all people through his sacrificial death and resurrection. Through a focus on Christian values such as hope, compassion, forgiveness and trust children will begin to understand what is involved in offering forgiveness to others and also being able to accept forgiveness from others.
Be willing to take risks and to reflect, learn and grow following experiences of failure as well as success.	David replied, “The Lord who rescued me from the paw of the lion and the paw of the bear will rescue me from the hand of this Philistine.” 1 Samuel 17. 37 Meanwhile, Zacchaeus stood before the Lord and said, “I will give half my wealth to the poor, Lord, and if I have cheated people on their taxes, I will give them back four times as much!” Luke 19. 8	Our children will reflect on the person of Jesus who took huge risks to ensure he completed his mission which at first appeared to be a complete failure yet ultimately was transformed into victory. Through a focus on Christian values such as courage, justice, hope, trust and truthfulness they will consider what might be sufficient reasons for taking risks in the light of what they have learned from past experiences.
Demonstrate curiosity and open mindedness when exploring life’s big questions.	Philip found Nathanael and told him, “We have found the One Moses wrote about in the Law, the One the prophets	Our children will learn from Jesus’ readiness to use questions to make people think, to challenge assumptions and enable them to come to their own conclusions. A focus

	foretold—Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.” “Can anything good come from Nazareth?” Nathanael asked. “Come and see,” said Philip. John 1. 46, 47 One day as Jesus was praying in private and the disciples were with Him, He questioned them: “Who do the people say I am?” They replied, “Some say John the Baptist; others say Elijah; and still others, that a prophet of old has arisen.” “But what about you?” Jesus asked. “Who do you say I am?” Peter answered, “The Christ of God.” Luke 9. 18-20	on the Christian values of truth and wisdom will help children look below the surface and the superficial in order to reveal new possibilities and avoid jumping to conclusions.
Appreciate and be thankful for what is good in their lives and show generosity towards others.	Be thankful in all circumstances. 1 Thessalonians 5. 18 Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. 2 Corinthians 9. 7	Our children will have opportunities to reflect on all that is good in life and appreciate this as God’s ‘gift’ rather than our entitlement. Through a focus on Christian values such as thankfulness, generosity, justice, community and service they will better learn to appreciate what they have. They will grow in their understanding that for many millions of people in the world life is a struggle, and will engage with issues of justice, poverty and climate change.

Self-awareness and Reflection: This competency allows pupils to explore their personal feelings, thoughts, and behaviours, and understand their strengths, weaknesses, and values. It's central to many tasks throughout the curriculum, particularly in self-reflection activities like "Exploring My Strengths" and "Exploring My Life's Purpose."

Empathy and Compassion: This competency involves understanding others' feelings and showing kindness and care. Tasks such as "Walking in Someone Else's Shoes" and "The Circle of Love" emphasize the development of empathy by encouraging pupils to recognize the feelings of others and act with compassion.

Courage and Resilience: Developing the ability to face fears, overcome adversity, and persevere with hope are key aspects of this competency. Tasks such as "The Power of Courage" and "Developing Resilience in the Face of Challenges" support this by encouraging pupils to draw on inner strength and remain hopeful despite challenges.

Global Awareness and Responsibility: Tasks like "World of Wonders" and "Understanding and Addressing Global Injustice" help develop an understanding of the interconnectedness of the world, encouraging pupils to see beyond themselves and understand their role in the larger global context.

Spirituality and Connection: This competency encourages pupils to explore their personal sense of meaning, purpose, and connection—whether to the divine, nature, humanity, or a higher reality. It recognizes that spirituality is deeply personal and can be expressed in different ways, including through religion, philosophy, nature, or personal reflection.

Ethical Action: This competency involves making decisions and taking actions aligned with spiritual and ethical values, such as kindness, justice, and love. Tasks like "Becoming the Change: Personal Action Plans" and "The Courage to Stand Up for Others" inspire pupils to take meaningful action that benefits others and contributes to the common good.

Why Compass Federation Schools Do Not Assess Spirituality

At Compass Federation schools, we believe that spirituality is a deeply personal and evolving aspect of a child's development. Unlike academic subjects, spirituality cannot be measured through standardised assessments or rigid frameworks. Instead, we focus on nurturing each child's spiritual growth in a way that respects its individuality, beliefs, and experiences.

1. Spirituality is Personal and Subjective

Every child experiences spirituality differently. For some, it may be rooted in religious belief, while for others; it may emerge through nature, relationships, or a sense of wonder. Any formal assessment risks limiting or defining spirituality in ways that may not be meaningful for each child.

2. Growth Over Measurement

Rather than assessing spirituality as a skill to be graded, Compass Federation schools encourage reflection, discussion, and self-awareness. Our Windows, Mirrors, and Doors approach allows children to explore different perspectives, reflect on their own experiences, and engage with the world, fostering natural growth in their spiritual journey.

3. Safe and Inclusive Exploration

Assessment can create pressure or discourage open exploration, particularly for children who may not have a defined sense of spirituality. Instead, we provide opportunities for expression—through journaling, discussions, creative activities, and acts of kindness—without judgement or comparison.

4. Encouraging Lifelong Reflection

Our aim is to equip children with tools for spiritual reflection that last beyond primary school, rather than assigning scores to something as deeply personal as their sense of meaning, purpose, and connection to the world.

By avoiding formal assessment, Compass Federation schools create a space where spirituality is nurtured, respected, and allowed to flourish naturally.

Spirituality across the Curriculum

Subject	Opportunities
PE	By delighting in movement, particularly when pupils are able to show spontaneity. By taking part in activities such as dance, games and gymnastics which help pupils to become more focused, connected and creative. By being aware of one's own strengths and limitations.
Computing	By wondering at the power of the digital age e.g. use of the internet and social media. By understanding the advantages and limitations of ICT. By using the internet as a gateway to big life issues.
Drama	By allowing for insight, self-expression and the chance to walk in someone else's shoes
Design and Technology	By enjoying and celebrating personal creativity. By reviewing and evaluating created things.
Music	By allowing pupils to show their delight and curiosity in creating their own sounds. By making links between their learning in literacy (or other curriculum area) with music being played as background. By considering how music makes one feel and can 'move us' deeply.
Art and Design	By providing plenty of rich opportunities for pupils to explore both the spiritual dimension and natural phenomena e.g. Northern Lights. By exploring different artists' interpretations of a key figure or event and asking what the artist was trying to convey. By allowing pupils to show what they know through their own expression of big ideas about life e.g. morality; ethical issues. By promoting the process of 'reviewing and evaluating'
PSHE/RSHE	By developing awareness of and responding to others' needs and wants. By exploring meaning and purpose for individuals and society. By developing resilience and inner strength. By valuing self as unique in the image of God. By cherishing relationships. (See Goodness and Mercy resources) And Archbishop of York Youth Trust
RE	By experiencing wonder and joy through learning about and from stories, celebrations, rituals and different expressions of religion and worldviews. By asking and responding to questions of meaning and purpose. By considering questions about God and evaluating truth claims. By exploring spiritual practices such as worship and prayer, and considering the impact of these on believers as well as any relevance to their own life. By working towards the RE Quality Mark.
Geography	By using Google maps and asking pupils to imagine what it might be like to live in different parts of the world. By making links with history when exploring the environment and speculating on why the landscape is as it is. By comparing their lives with pupils living in other countries or other parts of the UK, possibly through a schools linking programme. See Global Neighbours
History	By considering how things would be different if the course of events had been different; for example what difference would it have made if the Normans had not been successful in 1066? By looking at local history and investigating the reasons why there is a landmark, building or museum. By speculating about how we mark important events from history and the people who shaped them.

MFL	By exploring the beauty of languages from around the world. By exploring the way language is constructed.
Science	By demonstrating openness to the fact that some answers cannot be provided by Science. By creating opportunities for pupils to ask questions about how living things rely on and contribute to their environment.
Literacy	In responding to a poem, story or text; pupils can be asked 'I wonder what you think happens next?' 'How would you feel if you were the person in the story?' 'Where have you met these ideas before?' By appreciating the beauty of language.
Maths	By making connections between pupils' numeracy skills and real life; for example, pie charts could compare how a child in Africa spends their day with how children in the UK spend their time. By considering pattern, order, symmetry and scale both man made and in the natural world. By appreciating the beauty of shape and space.
